Today, as I pen down this editorial, my heart is filled with mixed emotions - pride, gratitude and a sense of responsibility. I am honoured to lead this institution that has been a beacon of excellence and values. I have had the privilege of serving our great nation with dedication and passion in uniform. And now, as an educationist and a zestful leader, I am dedicated to fostering iconic academic excellence and holistic development by nurturing the young minds that will shape the future of our country.

As we present 'Expressions' this year with an overwhelming sense of pride and joy, it narrates our story of embracing new challenges with courage and determination leading to the pinnacle of success and achievements. From academics to co-curricular activities, sports to inter school events, our students have consistently demonstrated excellence and commitment in achieving their goals by receiving numerous accolades and awards in multifaceted realms.

As we celebrate these achievements, we are also committed to sustained improvement and growth. We have been working indefatigably to upgrade our infrastructure, incorporating state-of-the-art facilities and technology to achieve our academic quest aligned with NEP 2020. This is just the beginning and we pledge to bring about more positive changes.

I am exhilarated to see our students expressing themselves so confidently and creatively through thought-provoking and insightful authorship. Their contribution put forth the vivacious spirit of our school. I would like to thank all the parents for their benevolent contribution in making this journey successful.

I express my deepest gratitude for the tireless efforts and dedication of our Editorial Committee and mentors and staff in shaping the minds of our students. Your dedication, expertise and passion for teaching are the pillars that support our school's excellence.

The steadfast and persistent support of the management has helped us to strive for immensity, pushing boundaries and exploring new frontiers. I am sanguine, under able guidance of the present management, our school will continue to be a beacon of excellence and innovation in all spheres.

As we embark on a new journey in the coming session, we will continue to emphasise the values that have always defined us - discipline, integrity and inclusion.

Jai Hind !
